Awe Comes in Different Sizes

This past June, Harry and I made our way out to California to visit with our oldest daughter Leah and her family. Those of us who are grandparents or great aunts/uncles know how exciting getting to see our grandchildren (great nephews/nieces) can be – and this trip was no exception. Our son-in-law, Ananth, made reservations for us all to spend two nights at Yosemite National Park – and it was there that I learned that awe comes in different sizes.

If you visit Yosemite's website you will find the following description of this amazing place: “Not just a great valley, but a shrine to human foresight, the strength of granite, the power of glaciers, the persistence of life, and the tranquility of the High Sierra. First protected in 1864, Yosemite National Park is best known for its waterfalls, but within its nearly 1,200 square miles, you can find deep valleys, grand meadows, ancient giant sequoias, a vast wilderness area, and much more.”

What can “much more” include? Well, as I would find out, that depends on your point of view.

I was awestruck by the views and the heights. The ancient Sequoia trees and the giant redwoods – so tall, so majestic. Witnesses to hundreds of years. Walking along the paths and looking up, up, up – it takes one’s breath away.

I was awestruck by the giant granite mountains, shaped by the glaciers. Again, silent and majestic.

The towering heights of El Capitan and Half Dome. The waterfalls breathtakingly falling, falling, falling – accompanied by the roar of flowing waters carrying the melting ice of winter.

How can you not look up – and be awestruck? If you are three or five years old, I found out that you might just be moved to look down... and be awestruck.

From our granddaughters, Leela (5) and Anjali (3), I learned (maybe I was reminded...) that the world close at hand is filled with awe. A stick. A stone. A frond from a fern. These are what caught their eyes and made them smile. These are what they picked up and showed me with such joy.

As I look at our photos from our trip, I am still struck by the views and the grandeur. But as I see the photos of Leela and Anjali bending to take a closer look at a pile of stones, holding out a new favorite walking stick, crouching down to examine a bug... I know that awe comes in different sizes.

Wishing you awe-filled days,

Rabbi Enid

A Support Group for Life's Challenges

At some point in our lives, we all must face some of life's greatest challenges, often because of loss, grief, transitions, and changes in health or relationships. The challenge comes in learning ways of coping and restoring balance and meaning in our lives. Rabbi Lader, knowing that a support group which met a few years ago was a helpful resource for its members, has asked us to explore the interest and need for such a group that would begin meeting in the fall, after the high holidays.

The purpose of a support group, which is different from a therapy group, is to help its members who are struggling with significant changes, losses, and challenges. The give and take in the group encourages people to share their experiences and practical ideas about ways of coping. The emotional support of the group can also lessen the sense of isolation that often accompanies our feelings of pain and confusion. While other support groups exist in the community, the purpose of this one is to provide support within our Beth Israel community – within our Jewish home.

Our present plan is to meet twice a month, on the first and third Sundays at 12:30 PM for approximately an hour and a half at the temple. The group would be facilitated by the three of us, who are all Licensed Independent Social Workers (LISW). If this interests you, or if you have questions or ideas, please contact one of us. We would be happy to talk with you about it.

You can reach us either by phone or email:

Alyssa Strongosky's Bat Mitzvah Project

One of the traditions at Beth Israel Temple when becoming a Bat Mitzvah is to organize a Tzedakah project. To me, Tzedakah means righteousness, doing the right thing, even when it's not required. Charity is giving out of the heart or when you want to. Tzedakah is fulfilling your duty as a Jew and doing the right thing by helping the less fortunate.

For my Bat Mitzvah project I chose to donate to The Dancing Wheels Company & School, since I love to dance. Dancing Wheels is a Cleveland-based organization of artists with and without disabilities that educates, entertains and advocates through physically integrated dance worldwide. If dance is an expression of the human spirit, then it is best expressed by people of all abilities.

I will be volunteering this summer at the Youth Arts Camp working with kids of all abilities. Donations to Dancing Wheels support scholarships and educational fees for those disabled kids who do not have the means to participate in such a meaningful program. Without this program many kids would not be able to fulfill their dreams, or do things they love like dancing. If you would like to support my project and Dancing Wheels, here is their information on how to contribute:

If you are local, I will have information at the temple. Otherwise please refer to their website at: <http://www.dancingwheels.org/donate.asp> and reference Alyssa Strongosky's Bat Mitzvah.

Thank you for your consideration,

Alyssa Strongosky

2015 High Holy Days: A Note from our Service Coordinator

Please note that Peter Sackett is starting to assemble the assigned readings for the High Holy Days. Our congregation prides itself in the congregational participation in our High Holy Day Services. Chances are, you will hear from him; if you have special requests, please let him know as soon as possible. Options include: individual, couples, families, intergenerational families (grandparents, parents, and grandchildren...), English readers, Hebrew readers, evenings, mornings, early/late.

Please contact Peter at PeterSackettLaw@sbcglobal.net.

*from Circle of FriendsPlans for 2015-16 Season

We have been busy planning for this coming season, and we thought you would like to save some of the dates we have set aside. Our first meeting will be Tuesday, October 13th at 7:30 at the home of Carola Bamberger. We're calling it "Leave You in Stitches," where we will inaugurate our project to create a new cover for the little Torah. We hope to have it finished to dedicate it at Shavuot in June. It's a small cover, but if you would like to participate in its creation, please come to the meeting.

We know you will be pleased to hear that we will again be celebrating Chanukah at the Atzenhoffer's on December 8th. We will also meet on February 9th; the 10th annual Women's Seder will be Thursday, April 28th (planning meeting on March 8th), and our final get together will be Tuesday, June 7th.

If you would like to volunteer to host any of the unclaimed dates, please let us know. Watch for more details and confirmations of dates and locations.

Hope to see you in October,

September 11 Remembrance Plans

Once again, we have an opportunity to meet and speak to the horrors of (now) 14 years ago.

Once again, we remember lives lost, lives forever changed, and those whom we do not know that are suffering every day, not just on 9/11.

Once again, Rabbi Lader, and hopefully other clergy, will lead us in thought and prayer.

Once again, everyone is welcome to join us... please spread the word.

Friday, September 11, 2015

Lakewood Park Gazebo (14532 Lake Ave), reserved from 8:00 - 10:00 am

Coffee provided by The Root - best coffeehouse in Lakewood.

If you have missed prior years, please consider joining us this year; most years, we have been finished by 8:30 am.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Thank and Bless You.

Greetings from the Director of Religious Education

I am very excited to begin my work as the Director of Education at Beth Israel – The West Temple. I am looking forward to getting to know all of our teachers, students, and families. I know that we will have a fabulous year of learning.

Along with returning staff members, I would like to personally welcome to our Religious School staff Robin Shapiro, who will be teaching grades 1/2. This year Harry Lader and Barbara Schwartz will be co-teaching grades 7/8. BI-TWT also welcomes back David Rosen, who is delighted to be returning to teach our 9th-12th grade students and to be our temple youth group and NFTY advisor.

This year BI-TWT will have an Israeli shin shin (teen ambassador). Itamar Cohen is 17 years old and from Ramat Gan, Israel. He will be working with our high school students and primary grades. During the school year, he will be visiting the classrooms to educate our students about the people, land, and culture in Israel. Please see his biography on the next page. Although Religious School does not begin until Sunday, September 20th, there are a number of learning and social opportunities for our congregation prior to then.

Camp Kee Tov will run from Monday, August 3rd through Friday, August 7th at the Bain Park Cabin in Fairview Park. There will be hiking, cooking, music, crafts, and sports as well as a visit to the zoo. The camp is open to all PK-4th graders, and the cost is $50 per child. Please contact Debbie Chessin at BI-TWT for more information.

On Sunday, August 9th, there will be time at the Congregational Picnic (Schwartz Park from 4-7 pm) for our high school students and their parents to meet with their teacher, David Rosen, to discuss the upcoming school year.

This year there is a new community-wide program called JDiscovery, sponsored by the Jewish Education Center of Cleveland and synagogues throughout the Cleveland metro area. Each month throughout the school year there will be a creative parent-child program; these programs will be held at various locations throughout Cleveland and are specifically designed for K/1 students and one parent. The first event is at the Lake County Farm Park, on Sunday, August 16th, from 2 to 4 pm. There is no cost for one child and his or her parent. If another child attends, the family will be charged the cost of a regular admission. Please refer to the flier.

On Sunday, August 30th, there will a retreat for all 9th-12th grade students that will explore “Journeys in Our Lives” from 9 am to 2 pm at the Hinckley Lake Boathouse. This is a great way to connect with friends, have fun, and begin a fabulous school year together! Please contact Debbie Chessin at newjerseydmc@aol.com or David Rosen at David@GroveStreetBrokers.com for more information. I hope everyone enjoys the rest of the summer!

Introducing Itamar Cohen

Hello, My name is Itamar Cohen and I'm 17 years old. I live in Ramat Gan, which is a city near Tel Aviv, in the center of Israel.

I've been in the "Tzofim"- the Israeli scouts, since the 4th grade. Two years ago I was a counselor of a group of boys in the 5th grade, and last year I was a counselor of a group of girls in the 7th grade. This year I am a counselor of a group of boys in the 5th grade with special needs, and the head of the community staff in my "tribe"- the Tzofim activity's place.

As the head of the community staff, I initiate many projects for our community, such as clothes collecting for the poor, blood donations, and fundraising for different non-government organizations that help the community as well.

I enjoy being a counselor in the scouts because I think that it is a unique place that allows me to educate and influence the younger generation with values such as: mutual respect, friendship, honesty, and more. Last summer, I was in the "Tzofim" delegation called "The Friendship Caravan." It's a 3 month delegation in which we traveled through the United States, performing, dancing, and singing about Israel. In this delegation, I got to be in 23 states, performed 84 times, stayed with 56 host families, and traveled more than 10,500 miles in a van with 11 more people that are like a second family to me.

Also, I volunteer in "Magen David Adom" (MDA), which is a medical service organization. I like volunteering in MDA because I learn lifesaving techniques and diagnosing medical conditions there, and it increases my knowledge of medicine. Moreover, I was a member in a leadership developing program called "Kav Hazinuk," a program which teaches me how to influence and change social conditions in the society correctly and effectively.

I was born in Jaffa on September 21st, 1997. My mother's name is Dorit and my father's name is Moshe. I have a 12 year old sister called Ofri and a 3 year old brother called Lior. My extended family is very large – I have 20 cousins so our holiday meals are very large and crowded and I enjoy them very much. I love music. I have played the guitar for 4 years and I can Beatbox. I have too many favorite bands, Israeli and American. I love sports too, mostly jogging, tennis, table tennis, and basketball. I'm a senior in "Blich" high-school. My majors are medicine and biology.

I look forward to meeting you,
Itamar
